

Flood Victim Holding Center – Field Survey Report

Date: 3 September 2026

Purpose: Assessment of the immediate needs and living conditions of flood-affected families at the holding center.

1. Visit and Basic Information

Our team visited the Gerkhutar Holding Camp / Holding Center at shree Sundari higher secondary school to assess the current situation of flood-affected people and identify their immediate needs.

Population Details

- * Total people: 108

- * Male: 48

- * Female: 60

- * Total families: 41

The holding center appeared to be mostly well-managed and organized. However, some additional support and improvements are still required.

2. Shelter and Accommodation

- * The existing shelter arrangements are generally functional.

- * Some families may require additional tents, particularly domed/winning-type tents, depending on the number of people and available space. Which is not the immigrant priority.

- * Further assessment should be conducted to identify families who do not have adequate shelter.

3. Food and Nutrition

Food arrangements are already being managed with support from World Central Kitchen and Chefs Association of Nepal.

Additional supplies may still be useful, particularly but not a priority :

- * Rice

- * Dal

- * Other essential food items

If resources permit, providing one bhatti chulo could also provide immediate assistance to the chef union.

4. Medical and Health Needs

The following medical support was identified as necessary:

- * Dignity kits: Approximately 10–15 packs
- * Medicines: Medicines should be procured according to the required/approved medical list by the present doctor.
- * Medical teams should ideally arrive with basic medical supplies, medicines and appropriate medical kits.

5. Kitchen and Household Requirements

Many families require basic kitchen utensils and household items so they can leave the holding center.

A basic kitchen pack for approximately 5–10 families should include:

- * Cooker/stove – approximately 3–4 pieces
- * Glasses – approximately 3–4 pieces
- * Karahi/frying pan – approximately 3–4 pieces
- * Plates
- * Spoons and other basic utensils
- * Medium-sized cooking/storage containers
- * Buckets and mugs
- * Other essential household/kitchen items

(Note: this list is for one kitchen (per family) so we need to atleast manage for 5 -10 families now, possibly need more and more)

Providing these items would help families become more independent and improve their daily living conditions at the holding center and to move out.

6. Children and Education

Children at the holding center also require educational and recreational support.

Suggested items include:

- * Colour pencils

- * Pencils and stationery
- * Exercise books/notebooks
- * Drawing and painting materials
- * Picture/colouring books
- * Tennis balls
- * Other age-appropriate playing materials

Recommended Approach

One of the most effective forms of support would be to have volunteer child focused teachers stay at the holding center for at least 1–2 weeks and conduct regular activities for children.

This could include:

- * Basic lessons
- * Drawing and creative activities
- * Games and recreation
- * Reading and writing activities
- * Psychological and social interaction through structured play

7. Required Volunteers

The following volunteers/personnel are recommended:

1. Teachers – 3–5 people

Teachers or experienced volunteers should be assigned primarily to work with the children and conduct educational and recreational activities. While taking turns.

2. Doctors and Nurses

A small medical team consisting of doctors and nurses should be mobilized, preferably with:

- * Basic medical kits
- * Essential medicines
- * First-aid supplies
- * Necessary dignity and hygiene supplies

8. Priority Needs Identified

Based on today's field visit, the main priorities are:

1. Medical support and essential medicines listed by present doctor.
2. Dignity kits (10–15 packs)
3. Additional tents/shelter where required and if budget is there
4. Basic kitchen utensils and household kits (major needed as said)
5. Additional food supplies such as rice and dal
6. Educational materials for children
7. Volunteer teachers for 1–2 weeks
8. Recreational/play materials for children

Overall Assessment

The holding center is generally organized and receiving support, particularly for food. However, several gaps remain in medical services, shelter, household/kitchen equipment, and children's education and recreational activities. Immediate targeted assistance in these areas would significantly improve the conditions of the flood-affected families staying at the center.
